

Hash Report - Run 253

Brumston Bridge, Wythop Mill - 3rd April 2016

Hares - Weekender and G-String

After a number of months with a shortage of Hares and Hashers - the crowds emerged for this bright and sunny spring day, with friends - old and new venturing out! We were rewarded with an adventure, to parts previously unseen in my hashing memory (and I'm a boring old fart who remembers these things!).

With multiple options for the route we eventually crossed the aforementioned Brumston Bridge, and started up the old corpse road, before cutting back and circling below the summit of Ling Fell and round to Wythop Moss - fortunately keeping above the boggy bits We eventually headed alongside the source of "Tom Rudd Beck", across Embleton High Common, before reaching Green Lonning, and heading back into Wythop Mill.

A short and friendly hash - appropriate for old hashers -who haven't been out for a while! The masses then headed to Derwent Lodge - to be revived by local hospitality.

On On!
